

Join today and help your community through the Urban League of Essex County. Make a difference with your tax-deductible contribution as other individuals, companies and corporations have in New Jersey.

The League is the largest affiliate of the National Urban League in New Jersey. It is an organization that for more than 70 years has led the community in striving for equal opportunity. The League works to eliminate racial discrimination and its effects by increasing employment opportunities, by opening access to housing, organizing a constituency for community improvement, and motivating its youth to achieve their full potential.

As an advocate for the disadvantaged, The League focuses not just on the individual but on the family. It is committed to strengthening and preserving the Black family. Its programs provide comprehensive assistance to ensure the stability of the family as a unit.

The League concentrates its efforts in four areas: Preparation for the World of Work; Support for Families and Children; Education and Community Outreach.

As its Board of Directors is diverse in expertise ranging from corporate leaders to youth members so is The Leagues auxiliaries - The Guild, forty years plus, focuses on community and fund raising based activities; The Pacemakers focuses on offering corporate and business communications to the community; and The Youth Council focuses on issues concerning teens and young adults and their future.

If you are capable of becoming a member, do so today and join the growing number of individuals who keep pace and support the community.
